

6th International Conference on Universal Digital Library (ICUDL 2010)

October 29-31, 2010, Zhejiang University, Hangzhou, P.R. China

CALL FOR PAPERS

International Conference on Universal Digital Library (ICUDL) is a major annual international conference organized as a forum for library, museum and IT professionals to exchange comprehensive views on the recent development and progress in digital library technology, to promote international cooperation in related fields, to advocate universal access to information, and to enhance the global impact of the Universal Digital Library Project.

The conference focuses on critical issues to make the Universal Digital Library (UDL) free-to-read, searchable and available to everyone over the Internet. The Million Book Project (MBP) is considered a first milestone towards building this digital library with one million books in various languages belonging to diversified cultures and civilizations. The annual workshop for the MBP will thus be held in conjunction with the conference.

ICUDL 2010 will take place in Hangzhou, Zhejiang, P.R. China, 29th-31th October, 2010. Hangzhou is one of the seven ancient capitals and the key scenic tourism and historical culture city in China. It once was applauded as "the most splendid and luxurious city in the world" by Marco Polo, the Italian traveler in the 13th century. The city locates close to China east coast (200km south to Shanghai) with convenient public transport.

CONFERENCE TOPICS

ICUDL 2010 is the 6th in a series of International Conference on Universal Digital Library, and the theme of ICUDL 2010 is "Massive Data, Cloud Computing".

As always, the conference welcomes contributions from all the fields that intersect to enable Digital Libraries. Topics include, but are not limited to:

- Digital library infrastructure and architecture
- Content organization and knowledge management
- Retrieval and browsing
- Systems, algorithms and models for data preservation
- Data extraction and data mining
- Information visualization

- Digital library network and information sharing
- Personal digital information management
- Theoretical models of information interaction and organization
- Economic issues of digital libraries and e-learning
- Multimedia processing and retrieval
- Tools and techniques for digital libraries
- Information policy and copyright law
- Standards in digital library design and development

Industry authors are also invited to submit papers describing solutions in the domains addressed by this conference, focusing on the technical aspects of their work. The submission procedure for industrial papers is the same as for research papers.

PAPER FORMAT & SUBMISSION

Original unpublished papers of up to 8 pages (single-spaced, 10 point font, including figures, tables and references) are invited. Manuscripts must be written in English. The first part of the paper should include a title, an abstract, keywords, and author's information (name, title, affiliation, address, phone and fax numbers, and email address). Any animation sequences should be provided as an archive .zip file with your manuscript. All papers are to be submitted in electronic form via the ICUDL 2010 submission Web page, and all papers should be submitted in PDF format.

All accepted papers should be prepared in the required format of ICUDL 2010.

IMPORTANT DATES

- Paper Submission Deadline..... August 1, 2010
- Notification of Acceptance..... September 15, 2010
- Camera Ready Papers Due.....September 25, 2010
- Conference Dates..... October 29~31, 2010

For more information and any inquire, please visit:
<http://www.icudl2010.org> or contact: icudl2010@zju.edu.cn